Weaver Chosen For Housing Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy Monday formally nominated Robert C. Weaver of New York to be administrator of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Weaver, 53, is vice chairman of New York City's Housing and Redevelopment Board and is chairman of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Kennedy announced last month his intention to name Weaver to the federal housing post, a higher position than any ever held by a Negro in the executive branch of the government.

There have been rumblings that the nomination may run into controversy in the Senate.

Weaver's nomination went to the Senate Monday with these other nominations previously announced:

Robert J. Burkhardt of New Jersey, to be assistant postmaster general.

Newton N. Minow of Illinois to be a member of the Federal Communications Commission for a seven-year term.

Allen W. Dulles of New York to be director of the Central Intelligence Agency, a post he held during the Eisenhower administration.

William H. Orrick Jr. of California to be assistant attorney general, civil division.

Rex Marion Whitton of Missouri to be federal highway administrator, Department of Commerce.

Mortimer M. Caplin of Virginia to be commissioner of internal revenue.

Abram Chayes of Massachusetts to be legal adviser to the State Department.

Frank M. Coffin, former Democratic representative from Maine, to be managing director of the development loan fund, State Department.

John E. Horne of Alabama to be administrator of the small business administration.

Philip M. Klutznick of Illinois to be representative of the United States on the Economic Social Council of the United Nations.
